ANTIMICROBIAL PRODUCTS FOR THE NEW NORMAL

The COVID-19 pandemic has changed the filter on how businesses and consumers view all aspects of life.

With a heightened understanding and priority, we are all doing everything we can to stay safe and healthy in an unprecedented time. We are resilient and we will get through this – but the experience will yield a new normal.

ADG Promotional Products is proud to introduce a series of antimicrobial pens, styluses and keychains to make these essential and commonly shared tools safer. The products contain a EPA registered antimicrobial agent in their protective coatings that provide long-term defense against bacteria that can cause product degradation, discoloration or odors.
